In Loving Memory of Colby Thomas Smith
5/25/04 ~ 10/11/15

Colby's Ride, founded in honor of 11-year old Colby Smith, who died in a biking accident on October 11, 2015, is committed to providing bicycles and helmets for underprivileged children in our community.

Kind. Loving. Generous. Patient. Humorous. Spiritual. These are just a few words to describe Colby. He was and is our only child, the first-born grandson, a nephew, a cousin, a friend, and an amazing example to all who met him.

A story we like to share with others is a story of his charitable spirit. Six months before Colby passed away, he recognized that children in our neighborhood could not afford bicycles. With this knowledge, he took it upon himself to use his allowance money to purchase used bicycles at yard sales so his friends could enjoy what he enjoyed most - riding a bike. For him, knowing that he had helped make someone smile was worth more to him than anything he could have purchased for him self.

We were blessed to have been chosen to be Colby's parents. He truly is a gift from God and we are eternally grateful for our 11 years with him. Through the pain and heartache, we will try our very best to be a fraction of what our sweet boy was to us and many.

We will hold him in our hearts forever, until we can hold him again in Heaven.

Warmly,
Keri Farley, Colby's mom

Grief In Autumn ~ Alone and Missing You

Autumn is the season of change, and the season of dying. Brown grass and dried gardens with remnants of vegetable vines and a lonely shriveled tomato hanging on a broken stem remind us the summer has gone.

It is a difficult time for people prone to depression, or those grieving the death of a loved one.

Days are colder and the early evening darkness brings too much quiet time causing us to notice the absence of the one we have loved.

Short days tell us the winter will come and the days of holiday cheer. This realization brings a feeling of dread and panic. What will I do? How will it be? How will I be? Can I survive?

Change and holidays are catalysts that propel the roller coaster of grief, turning calm days into sleepless nights and reopening wounds that have just begun to heal.

Emotional triggers include Halloween with its festive and fun spirit evoking memories of early childhood, wide-eyed and innocent, exploring and participating in a world of make believe. I can be a pirate, or a princess or Dorothy of Kansas. Now I know the world includes grief and all that comes with it. I know about suicide, and disease, and being scared.

Painful memories abound, reflections not of our loved one but on how we coped, what we did instead, how we held it together. Questions everywhere, should I have done more? Did I care enough?

I am alone and I am missing you.

At times it seems new memories will never happen, at least authentic peaceful ones.

I watch the happiness of others quietly resenting the healthy intact families finding joy at their holiday table. A tinge of jealousy sneaks its way to the surface. The holidays present another level of grief.

The season of dying is also the season of preparation.

Age and a traveled path help me to appreciate this irony of autumn. Nature is both cruel in the presentation of emotional triggers and yet loving and supportive in its message to prepare and to have gratitude.

I feel forewarned and I know what to expect. Awareness reduces the number of surprises and adds predictability. Like a squirrel I gather good books and movies to occupy and nurture the wanderings of my mind. My journal lies ready at the bedside. Maybe I will change holiday rituals and side step the pain of the old ones.

Brisk walks and crisp air help to awaken the lethargy. The cold which chills me to the bone encourages comfort food and rich soup, lovely soft flannels and colorful plaids. I can fill my empty home with the smells of freshly baked bread, cinnamon and raisins.

The lonely early night, although dark, reveals diamonds in the sky and the silence for reflecting on what once was. Warm memories unfold and I am at peace. I know where to find you.

Nature sends the brown bear to hibernate, the geese migrate and I am reminded to seek solace. The quiet safe place inside where I can care for myself, where my heart can be still. Where I can experience connection to those I miss, and where I can remember who I am.

Autumn has forewarned me and I have a suspicion of what to expect. I will nurture myself. I will say "yes" to the friends who understand and "no" to those who don't. I will get up and keep going and I will cry when I cry.

I am alone, missing you.

Donations

A donation has been received in memory of one of our long-time members, Walter Zeitfuss, stepfather of Robert Loiseau.

I realize that this is a subject that none of us want to think about, but when a bereaved parent dies, consider requesting donations to BPUSA NOVA Chapter or to the BPUSA National Organization in lieu of flowers. It is important to let your families know that this is where you would like your memorials to go.

BPUSA is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization.

Bereaved Parents of the USA Credo

We are the parents whose children have died. We are the grandparents who have buried grandchildren. We are the siblings whose brothers and sisters no longer walk with us through life. We come together as Bereaved Parents of the USA to provide a haven where all bereaved families can meet and share our long and arduous grief journey. We attend month gatherings whenever we can and for as long as we believe necessary. We share our fears, confusion, anger, guilt, frustrations, emptiness and feelings of hopelessness, so that hope can be found anew. As we accept, support, comfort and encourage each other, we demonstrate to each other that survival is possible. Together we celebrate the lives of our children, share the joys and the triumphs as well as the love that will never fade. Together we learn how little it matters where we live, what our color or our affluence is or what faith we uphold as we confront the tragedies of our children's deaths. Together, strengthened by the bonds we forge at our gatherings, we offer what we have learned from each other to every more recently bereaved family.

*We are the Bereaved Parents of the USA.
We welcome you.*
